ARTISTS HELPING CHILDREN

The Mountain Home Thrift Store: Cheryl's Place provides jobs and training for youth in Black Mountain Home for Children's apprenticeship program. It also provides income for the ministry as government funding continues to dwindle.

Our Grove Stone Gallery features local art, handcrafts, jewelry, collectibles, and other items that are donated for us to sell at or near retail price. We're able to draw attention to the incredible talent and generosity of artists in our area while also raising funds to support our children.

Paintings, pottery, jewelry, quilts, scarves, furniture, and other handcrafted items donated by local artisans help us provide a safe, loving home to more than 150 children each year.

To learn more about donating your handcrafted art in support of children in need, please contact:

Black Mountain Home for Children, Youth & Families has been caring for abandoned, abused, neglected, and orphaned children for more than a century. Begun in 1904, the Home began its ministry taking in children whose parents had died or disappeared. Today, the ministry serves youth from birth through college age and beyond through family foster care, residential care, transitional living, and independent living.
